

The Internet is an essential service, like a utility, that must remain open and neutral for all users and content providers. Keep Net Neutrality.